Posting on Wordpress

Blog Posts on the The Big Necessity by Rose George
CENG340—Introduction to Environmental Engineering
Instructor: Prof. Deborah Sills

Instructions for Getting Your Post onto the Wordpress site:

Where is the blog?

You should all be registered users of the blog.

Accessing the blog the first time:

We cannot register you as a user of the blog until you go to http://blogs.bucknell.edu and select "Bucknell Blogs Login" on the right side of the site. Once you do that, please email me and I will register you as an author of the blog.

Accessing the blog for the rest of the semester

You should be able to access the blog directly: http://ceng340thebignecessity.blogs.bucknell.edu.

Please let me know if you cannot access the blog, so I can contact my IT support person who will fix the problem. Make sure you check before the due date.
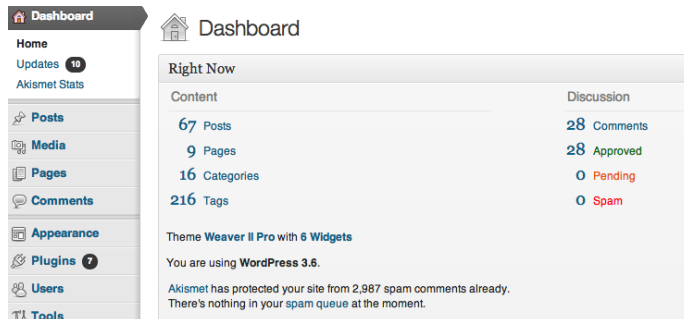

How to post

Compose each blog post with your favorite word processing software (e.g., MS Word). Do not compose the post online, because you may lose your work if WordPress crashes, which happens occasionally. Once you're happy with your post, go to the blog site: http://ceng340thebignecessity.blogs.bucknell.edu, and follow the posting directions shown on the next page.

How to Write a WordPress Post
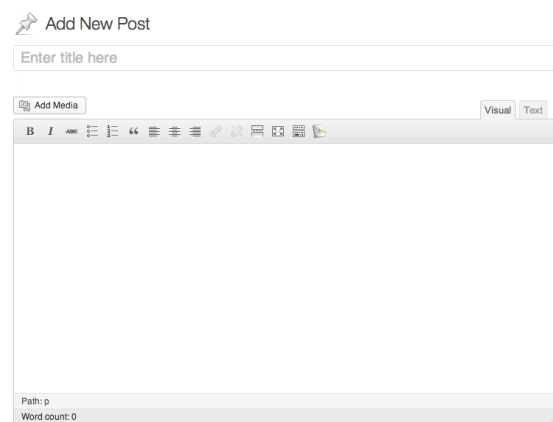

|
1. Log in to your WordPress Dashboard	2. Click the "Add New Post" option in the "+ New" pull-down menu.
3. Type in the word-processing box; give your post a title.	4. Check the appropriate category.
5. Click "Publish".	6. Click "View post" to see how your work looks in the blog environment. You can always go back to your post to add content or make changes. Good luck!
